

ADORATION[®]

HOME HEALTH & PRIVATE DUTY NURSING

PEDIATRIC PRIVATE DUTY NURSING CARE: SPECIALIZED SERVICES FOR CHILDREN IN NEED

What is Pediatric Private Duty Nursing?

Pediatric Private Duty Nursing (PDN) provides continuous, specialized nursing care for children with complex medical needs in the comfort of their homes. This type of care is designed for children who require a higher level of medical attention than can be provided by general home health care services. PDN ensures that these children receive the skilled care they need to manage chronic conditions, recover from surgeries, or maintain stability with ongoing medical treatments.

Services Provided

Comprehensive Medical Care: Pediatric private duty nurses are trained to handle a wide range of medical tasks, including but not limited to:

- Administration of medications and intravenous therapies
- Monitoring of vital signs and medical equipment
- Respiratory care, including tracheostomy and ventilator management
- Gastrostomy and enteral feeding tube care
- Seizure management
- Wound care and infection control

Individualized Care Plans: Each child receives a personalized care plan tailored to their specific medical needs and family dynamics. These plans are developed in collaboration with physicians, specialists, and family members to ensure comprehensive and coordinated care.

Family Education and Support: Beyond direct patient care, pediatric private duty nurses also provide crucial support to family members. They educate caregivers on managing the child's condition, proper use of medical equipment, and emergency procedures, ensuring the family feels confident and supported.

Benefits of Pediatric Private Duty Nursing

- Continuity of Care: Having a dedicated nurse allows for consistent monitoring and management of the child's condition, which can lead to better health outcomes and reduced hospitalizations.
- Enhanced Quality of Life: By receiving care at home, children can enjoy a more comfortable and familiar environment, contributing to their overall well-being and development.
- Holistic Approach: Pediatric private duty nurses address not only the medical needs of the child but also consider their emotional, social, and developmental needs, promoting a holistic approach to care.

Reaching Out for Pediatric Private Duty Nursing Services

For clinical referral sources, understanding when and how to refer a patient to pediatric private duty nursing is crucial. Referrals are typically made for children who:

- Have complex medical conditions requiring continuous monitoring and specialized care
- Are transitioning from hospital to home care
- Need long-term medical support to manage chronic conditions

To refer a patient or for more information about our services, please contact us at:

Adoration Health - Private Duty Nursing

Phone:

Email:

Website: <https://adorationhealth.com/services/private-duty-nursing/>

By providing specialized pediatric skilled services, our team is dedicated to enhancing the lives of children with complex medical needs and supporting their families through compassionate and expert care.

References

- Gormley, E. A., Costello, J. M., & Sweeney, C. F. (2020). The role of private duty nursing in pediatric home care. Journal of Pediatric Nursing, 52, 22-27. <https://doi.org/10.1016/j.pedn.2019.11.008>
- Loughlin, G. M., Carroll, J. L., & Marcus, C. L. (2018). Pediatric home mechanical ventilation: Medical and psychosocial considerations. Pediatric Pulmonology, 53(2), 163-172. <https://doi.org/10.1002/ppul.23960>
- Wong, D. L., & Hockenberry, M. J. (2015). Wong's Nursing Care of Infants and Children (10th ed.). Elsevier.